to Richard Lynn (BPSU Scientific Coordinator), John Stephenson (Research and Development Division, Department of Health), and Anya Leiva, Chris Lanc, and Sheena Crandom of the Communicable Disease Surveillance Centre who provided mapping support and advice. We are also grateful to the paediatric neurologists who are members of the PIND Expert Group: Jean Aicardi, Peter Baxter, Stuart Green, Richard Robinson, Robert Surtees, and John Wilson. Last but by no means least, this surveillance would not have been successful without the support and cooperation of all the UK paediatricians who return the BPSU orange card, and we remain most grateful to them all.

Authors’ affiliations
G Devereux, L Stellitano, C M Verity, A Nicoll, R G Will, P Rogers, Addenbrooke’s Hospital, Cambridge, UK
A Nicoll, P Rogers, Communicable Disease Surveillance Centre, Health Protection Agency, London, UK
R G Will, National Creutzfeldt-Jakob Disease Surveillance Centre, Edinburgh, UK

REFERENCES