European Society for Paediatric Nephrology

The Sixth Annual Meeting of the European Society for Paediatric Nephrology was held in Dublin from 3 to 7 October 1972 under the Presidency of Professor Sheamus Dundon. The Scientific Programme follows. Any interested reader may contact the speaker named through the Secretary of the Society—Professor Harmen A. Tiddens, Wilhelmina Children's Hospital, 37 New Gracht, Utrecht, Netherlands.

The Seventh Meeting of the Society will be organized by Professor Ferdinand Démant (Children's University Hospital, Moyaesova 9, Kosice, C.S.S.R.) from 10 to 13 September 1973 in the High Tartra, Czechoslovakia.

Membranous nephropathy

Paris, France.

Membranous nephropathy. J. S. Cameron.

Isotope nephrophography of membranous nephropathies in children compared with changes observed in basement membranes. M. P. Matveyev.
Moscow, U.S.S.R.

Renal tubules and the interstitial tissue in membranous glomerulitis in children. V. P. Sitnicova.
Moscow, U.S.S.R.

Nephrosis, Schönlein-Henoch nephritis, and cyclophosphamide

Glasgow, Scotland.

Paris, France.

Liverpool, England.

Thrombosis complicating the nephrotic syndrome. P. Elmiger.
Basle, Switzerland.

Kidney pathology of the nephrotic syndrome in infancy. J. Rapola.
Helsinki, Finland.

Effects of a 2-week course of cyclophosphamide on the steroid-sensitive relapsing nephrotic syndrome of childhood. T. M. Barratt.

Renal dysplasia

Paediatric nephrosonography. A. Murphy.
Glasgow, Scotland.

Barcelona, Spain.

Hereditary nephropathy with hyperuricaemia.
E. Leumann.
Zurich, Switzerland, and Paris, France.

Clinicopathological study in urinary tract malformations. G. Rizzoni.
Paris, France.

Surgical correction of anomalies in advanced renal insufficiency. T. Wyszynska.
Warsaw, Poland.

Haemodialysis and transplant

Bone problems in children treated by chronic haemodialysis. C. Loirat.
Paris, France.

Heidelberg, Germany.

Utilization of D-amino acids by a uraemic subject. C. Giordano.
Naples, Italy.

Haemodialysis in treatment of acute renal failure in small children. O. Koskimies.
Helsinki, Finland.

Saphenous vein arteriovenous fistula for extended haemodialysis in children. V. D'Apuzzo.
Los Angeles, California, U.S.A., and Bern, Switzerland.

Heidelberg, Germany.

Water and electrolyte conservation in early life

Water and electrolyte conservation in early life. J. Metcoff.
Oklahoma, U.S.A.

Renal functional changes in the newborn baby. I. Houston.
Manchester, England.

Development of renal acidifying capacity in children. L. Monnens.
Nijmegen, Netherlands.

Postnatal changes of glomerular blood flow distribution in puppies. H. Olbing.
New York, U.S.A.

Compensatory changes in HCO3 excretion after unilateral functional nephrectomy in the dog. J. P. Giugnard.
Lausanne, Switzerland.

Two neglected problems about renal function in the perinatal period. R. A. McCance.

Renin and aldosterone activity

Plasma renin concentration in infants with coarctation of the aorta. H. E. Zoethout.
Rotterdam, Netherlands.

Plasma renin activity in hypertension associated with segmental hypoplasia of the kidneys. C. Godard.
Paris, France, and Geneva, Switzerland.

Two cases of pseudo-hypoaldosteronism. W. Proesmans.
Leuven, Belgium.
Renal tubular transport of sodium and potassium in children with glomerulonephritis after frusemide application. V. I. Naumova. Moscow, U.S.S.R.

Tubular transport of amino acids

Tubular transport system of dibasic amino acids and cystine: postnatal development and inherited defects. J. Brodehl. Hanover, Germany.

Cyclic AMP and some renal tubular dysfunction syndromes. W. Proesmans, Leuven, Belgium.

Postnatal development of tubular transport of proline and glycine. M. Brandis. Hanover, Germany.

Haemolytic uraemic syndrome

Glomerulonephritis

A ribonucleoprotein from the streptococcus: characterization and role in poststreptococcal glomerulonephritis. J. Dippell. Frankfurt, Germany.

Clinicopathological study of some renal diseases, particularly in membranous nephropathies and hereditary nephritis. M. Ignatova. Moscow, U.S.S.R.

Urinary tract infection

Scientific exhibitions

Screening study for urinary tract infection on 12,000 schoolgirls. P. Deasy. Dublin, Ireland.