Neonatal Society*

Meeting held on 15 November 1973 at St. Thomas’s Hospital, London S.E.1

Communications

Thymic dependent lymphocyte function in pregnancy. M. Popovic, J. Munro, H. Gordon, and P. J. L. Holt. Departments of Rheumatology and Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Royal Postgraduate Medical School, Hammersmith Hospital, London W12.

Acute effects of alkali infusion in infants with respiratory distress syndrome. J. D. Baum and N. R. C. Roberton. Department of Paediatrics, John Radcliffe Hospital, Headington, Oxford.

Increase in neonatal jaundice at a maternity hospital. N. Campbell, D. Harvey, and A. P. Norman. Queen Charlotte's Maternity Hospital, London W.6.

Fasting the mother fattens the fetus. D. Hudson and D. Hull. Department of Child Health, City Hospital, Nottingham.

Lymphocyte populations in umbilical cord blood. C. Stern introduced by L. Cooper. Department of Immunology and Paediatrics, Royal Postgraduate Medical School, Hammersmith Hospital, London W12.

*Secretary, Professor David Hull, Department of Child Health, City Hospital, Nottingham NG5 1PB.