ARCHIVES OF DISEASE IN CHILDHOOD

The Journal of the British Paediatric Association

Welcome to a new editor

This month we welcome Dr Harvey Marcovitch to his appointment as joint editor of the Archives. He is currently Consultant Paediatrician and Clinical Director of Paediatrics at Horton General Hospital, Banbury, and Clinical Lecturer at the University of Oxford. He is Chairman of the Medical Advisory Council of Oxford Regional Health Authority, and a member of its Postgraduate Medical Education and Training Committee.

He has a special interest in medical education particularly at the interface of general practice and hospital paediatrics. He is a skilled medical author having written numerous informative articles on basic paediatric problems in medical magazines and scientific journals, as well as chapters in textbooks.

Harvey Marcovitch is experienced in medical journalism, having been one of our associate editors since 1990. His promotion will help maintain the high standard of the journal.
